Pamela (Rogers) Kuechler ‘85

Class of 1985

Pamela (Rogers) Kuechler was a member of the Fairhaven School Committee from 2008 to 2023 and chairperson from 2011-2017 and 2022. She was directly involved in many initiatives that made the Fairhaven Public Schools among the best school districts in the South Coast. Some highlights of Pam’s contributions to FHS and the Fairhaven Public school include:

- Being an integral part of the FHS Alumni Stadium project and seeing it to completion.
- Made FHS a one-to-one school ensuring every student has a Chromebook device.
- Created a Unified Sports program. FHS was named a Special Olympics Unified Champion School as a result.
- Supported projects for the continued maintenance and restoration of FHS as the crown jewel of Fairhaven.
- Played an integral role in the push to build the new Leroy L Wood School and was the school committee representative to the School Building Committee.
- Created a Family Engagement Center to provide social supports for our school community.
- Created a K-2 literacy program to improve reading and comprehension skills.
- Enhanced before and after school programming.
- Installed Solar Energy systems at both elementary schools.
- Created a robust social and emotional system to support mental health of our students which was especially important in the aftermath of the pandemic.
- Set our district on a course to becoming the first in the Commonwealth to receive District Accreditation from the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC).

Pam has lived a life dedicated to public service. In addition to serving on the school committee, she has been a Sunday school teacher, Coalition for Buzzards Bay volunteer, Roger’s School PTO president, school council member, and the list goes on. She currently serves as the Executive Director for People Acting in Community Endeavors (PACE), Incorporated. It is clear that PACE’s mission, helping those in need to have the services needed for a brighter future, is Pam’s mission.

Pam is someone in whom the Fairhaven High School Alumni can be proud. She sets the bar high for excellence and giving back to her community and those who supported her along the way. She has left indelible marks in the halls of FHS, the Fairhaven Public School district, the South Coast, and the state of Massachusetts.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Four years ago, Maya Medeiros, Abby Thomas and Tenley Dakin were part of a deep pool of talented freshmen in Fairhaven High School's relatively healthy Girls' Basketball program. Three seasons later, in what was supposed to be their "Dream Year," the trio of seniors were facing the nightmarish task of trying to keep that program alive.

Unlike several former players who chose to walk away from girls' basketball for various reasons, Maya, Abby and Tenley opted to stay and end their respective high school basketball careers on a positive note. With a new coaching staff taking over and a thin roster dominated by non-seniors with limited or no varsity experience, Fairhaven's tri-captains accepted the challenge to keep a dying program of 12 players alive. Winning clearly wouldn't be easy, but as far as Maya, Abby and Tenley were concerned, failure wasn't an option.

Maya was the acknowledged on-court leader and the only true basketball player among the tri-captains. Abby was an all-star volleyball player who enjoyed playing basketball and Tenley's best sport was soccer in which she excelled. But all three had played leading roles for their team at various venues over the three previous basketball seasons.

Maya was the floor general and the team's major offensive weapon while Abby was the team's leading rebounder and vocal leader both on and off the court. Tenley was the team's quickest player and the best defender. All three were starters and despite some physical problems, they missed just one full game between them over the course of the recently completed 20 game season.

Because of their diminutive stature, Maya and Tenley (both of whom are under 5-foot-5) were bumped, banged and double-teamed repeatedly while Abby played in pain throughout the season as a result of summer medical procedures on both of her ankles that impeded her ability to run and jump for an extended period of time. Tenley missed one game due to illness and played hurt through others. But whether they were on the court or sitting on the bench, their total focus was on the game, urging their young teammates on in quest of that rare win while expecting a competitive effort from everyone.

Maya led the team in scoring and had a season-high 25 points in a 49-32 win at Wareham on her way to all-star honors. Abby had a season-high 16 points and 15 rebounds in a loss to Bourne while Tenley and her fellow captains combined for 26 points in a five-point win over Seekonk on Senior Night. The team won just five games but saved the best for last when the Blue Devils upended Old Rochester on the road 36-24. It was the first time that Maya, Abby and Tenley had beaten the Bulldogs, and hopefully, helped set the tone for a brighter future for the Girls' Basketball program at Fairhaven High School. Thank you Maya, Abby and Tenley for your loyalty to Fairhaven High School girls' basketball. And hopefully, steering the program in the right direction.

DAVE J. MEDEIROS AWARD

For Exceptional Dedication to Students

Established in honor of Mr. David J. Medeiros, teacher, coach and athletic director, who devoted 33 years of service to the Fairhaven Public Schools, this award is presented annually to a current member of the faculty, staff or administration who has dedicated his or her energy and talent to enrich the lives of the students in the Fairhaven Public Schools with exceptional dedication and commitment to student development.

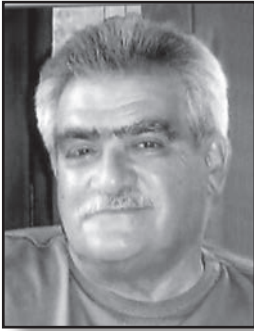

Shawnte Paris

Exceptional dedication to students is a high bar to achieve, and one that is only reached through determination, and dedication. For 15 years Ms. Shawnte Paris has been a dedicated Para Professional in the classroom, offering support to teachers and working with students who may be struggling to achieve their goals. She is approachable, and gives everyone a fair chance, and is not afraid of the challenges that come with long and demanding school years. Over the past few years especially, she has been someone who administrators, teachers and most importantly, students, can rely on.

Her enthusiasm for the Fairhaven Community stretches beyond the school day as well. Shawnte had always worked as a ticket seller or student section monitor at home football and basketball games over her first ten years, and turned that into a key role as Faculty Manager for the Athletic Department in the last 4. In her time in the role, she has upheld the high standards for sportsmanship we hold for our athletes and spectators, and managed to have a lot of fun along the way doing so. Her trademark “Let’s Get It Devils” can be heard on courts and fields, home and away, and her support is both appreciated and unwavering. Ms. Paris has the unique ability to connect with every kid in the building, whether in the halls, during lunches, in class, or in the bleachers. She is truly someone who puts students first, and has a deep love for all things Fairhaven. For someone who truly Bleeds Blue, we are grateful.

Al Dellecese

“Mr. Del Dedicated Athlete Award”

The Fairhaven High School Hall of Fame lost a loyal friend on March 30, 2009 when Al Dellecese passed away after a brief illness. He was 67.

Although he was born in New Bedford, the man who went on to become known as “Mr. Del,” was an icon in the town of Fairhaven which he called home for the majority of his life.

An avid sports enthusiast, Al was an outstanding basketball player at Fairhaven High School and in the years following his graduation, he played basketball and softball in the New Bedford City League.

Al’s heart beat loudest for his beloved town of Fairhaven and the youth who lived there. During and after his playing days, Al coached in various youth leagues and, over the past 20 years, served as the official scorer at Fairhaven High School boys basketball and girls softball games. When he put his pen aside, he turned to his computer to write about the athletes in various articles that appeared in the Standard Times, The Fairhaven Advocate and the Free Press where his column “Mr. Del Speaks” was widely read.

He was also a member and past officer of the town’s two prestigious sports clubs, the Thomas Livesey Memorial Club and the Fairhaven Varsity Club. He was the founder of the Fairhaven Mixed Doubles Adult Pitch League.

Al was the voice of reason in his decade-long association with the Hall of Fame committee, whether it be offering his insight, questioning a motion or rationalizing the pros and cons of a person nominated for possible induction. When he was asked to take over the duties of recording secretary, he did so without restrictions and when it came to fundraising projects, Al was at the front of the line.

Because of his close association with and fondness for the athletes who played boys basketball and girls softball at Fairhaven High School, the Hall of Fame committee has established a “Mr. Del Dedicated Athlete Award” in which a member of each of those teams will be honored during the annual Hall of Fame Banquet. It’s a way to help keep alive the memory of the man who devoted so much of his time to the town and the young people he truly admired.

Thanks for everything you’ve done, Mr. Del, from all of us who had the pleasure to know you!

The Award Recipients for 2023 are:

Softball – Cassidy Saucier

Basketball – Jack Cunha

Congratulations to the deserving recipients!

Raymond “Ray” Law Class of 1933

Raymond “Ray” Law graduated from Fairhaven High School in 1933 where he was a three-sport standout in football (two seasons), basketball (three seasons), and baseball (two seasons). In football he was an offensive end and was named to the All-Bristol County Second Team as a senior. In baseball he was the team’s starting catcher for two seasons. But his best sport was basketball where he was an All-Bristol County First Team selection in both his junior and senior seasons. He capped off his schoolboy athletic career by winning the cherished Sparrow Cup as the school’s top all-around senior athlete.

Dubbed the “ultimate team player”, Law lived up to that reputation at the start of his senior year and final basketball season. After leading the Bristol County League in scoring as a junior forward in the 1931-32 campaign, Law was asked to make the switch to guard in an attempt to make the team stronger. With his title changed to “floor leader,” the County’s defending scoring champion was asked to shift his focus, and he succeeded in leading his team to the best record in recent school history, and at 15-2, the best record among the seven schools in Bristol County which also included New Bedford (8-7), Holy Family (7-7), Dartmouth (4-7) and Taunton (2-12).

Although no team from Bristol County was invited to compete in the 1932-33 MIT Tournament, Ray Law was hailed as one of the top players in Southeastern Massachusetts. Despite the change of positions, Ray led his team in scoring for the third consecutive season, finished second in the Bristol County League and ranked among its leaders in assists and steals.

Eliot H. Lumbard

Class of 1942

LIFETIME ACHIEVER

Eliot was born in Fairhaven, MA on May 6, 1925 and attended the Anthony School before entering and graduating from Fairhaven High School in 1942. After graduation from FHS in 1942 with war raging Eliot entered World War II as one of the first graduates of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, NY, and he sailed on Liberty ships as a 3rd and 2nd mate carrying troops and bombs.

After the war ended Eliot enrolled in the Wharton School of Economics at the University of Pennsylvania and then graduated from Columbia Law School. Eliot held a number of prominent positions in New York State law enforcement and was an advisor to Governor Nelson Rockefeller as well as Scotland Yard. But none of his work produced more headlines than his pursuit of the mob in the 1950's and 1960's.

In the late 1950's as an assistant U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of N.Y. Eliot had been prosecuting corruption inside the IRS when he joined the newly formed State Investigation Commission that had been created to fight organized crime and improve policing. Eliot went on to become the chief counsel for the New York State Commission of Investigation, directing a select unit of 50 state troopers in battling corruption and organized crime, including a raid on the mob's Apalachin Meeting, in which he and his troopers surrounded a meeting of 100 Mafia bosses from around the nation, held in a house in the woods of upstate New York. It is said that the FBI's J. Edgar Hoover refused to acknowledge the existence of the Mafia until 58 Mafia bosses, including Vito Genovese, Carlo Gambino and Joseph ("Joey Bananas") Bonnano were captured in the raid.

Eliot was next appointed as Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's Special Assistant Counsel for Law Enforcement. While in that position Eliot proposed the creation of a School of Criminal Justice, eventually established at the State University of NY in Albany, and he created the New York State Information and Intelligence System, which allowed the police of jurisdictions across the United States to share information about the activities of highly mobile and well-organized criminals. Other states and the United Kingdom's Scotland Yard hired Eliot as an advisor as well.

Throughout most of these years and beyond Mr. Lumbard practiced law in downtown New York City as a litigator, an expert in maritime law and as a trustee in large and complex bankruptcies. In retirement Eliot launched the American Maritime History Project from an office at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, King's Point. The project has thus far produced two books, "The Way of the Ship" and "In Peace and War," on the key contributions of our merchant marine throughout American history.

Eliot Lumbard died on November 6, 2013 at the age of 88 at his home in Nashua, NH. He is survived by a brother Alden who graduated from FHS in 1953 and lives in South Yarmouth, MA and a son John, and two daughters: Ann and Susan, as well as four granddaughters.

Ronald “Ron” Renaud Class of 1978

Ron Renaud was a member of the FHS Varsity Football team and saw enough playing time to score a key touchdown that helped secure a 14-6 victory at Durfee High School midway through his senior season in 1977. It turned out to be the only touchdown of his football career and came in the team’s final victory that season. The team would score just three touchdowns and a total of 22 points over the final five games of that 1977 season turning a hot 4-1 start into a rather not-so-cool 4-5-1 overall record.

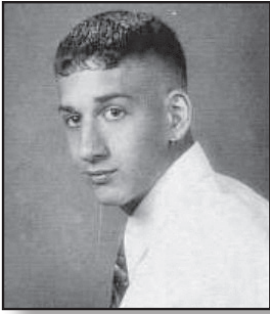

But in the spring there was nothing mediocre about the athletic Ronnie Renaud who was a dominant force on the baseball diamond. Pitching was his claim to fame, and in the Greater New Bedford area there was no better high school pitcher than the Fairhaven hard-throwing right hander. Ron Renaud established himself during his sophomore season when he struck out more than 80 hitters while compiling an earned run average of 1.90 on his way to fashioning a record of 8-2 to earn a spot on The Standard-Times All-Star Team. And this was just the beginning of his brilliant baseball career.

Following a better-than-solid junior season, Ron Renaud continued to dominate by going undefeated on the mound (8-0) while swinging the bat at a productive .380 clip to help power Fairhaven into the post season tournament. Following the season, he was a unanimous selection for The Standard-Times All-Star Team.

But all-star performances seemed to be the norm for the 5 foot 10 powerfully built right hander. Ron had raised eyebrows the summer before entering high school when he retired all 18 batters that he faced, striking out 14 of them, in leading his Morse Twist Drill team to a victory over the Panthers Club in a pony league game.

After putting the finishing touches on his high school baseball career, which included pitching Fairhaven to its only victory in the post season tournament, Ron was back on the mound a week later hurling his New Bedford Wallpaper team to an 8-1 win over the Exchange Club in a Greater New Bedford Teener League contest.

Ron went on to attend Southeastern Massachusetts University (as it was then named) in North Dartmouth, and continued to play baseball on the collegiate level. After leaving SMU he became a commercial fisherman, and unexpectedly passed away in 1989.

Aaron Matteos

Class of 1998

During his four years at Fairhaven High School Aaron Matteos was involved in four sports, football, basketball, winter and spring track while accumulating eight varsity letters. Aaron also had the prestigious honor of being named as the captain of the football, winter and spring track teams. As well as his achievements in athletics, he was also committed in the classroom where he received the National Student Athlete Day Award for his excellence in academics, athletics and community service.

Although small in stature, Aaron always showed the aggressiveness and intensity that it takes to play Blue Devil football, playing running back on offense and a shut down corner back on the defensive side. He always seemed to save his best for the Thanksgiving Day game. Aaron put up great numbers: 227 yards and two touchdowns in the 1996 and 1997 games versus arch rival Dartmouth High School. S-T sports writer Buddy Thomas wrote that "if Fairhaven can be considered explosive then Aaron Matteos should be dubbed the fuse." At the end of the season Aaron was named to the South Coast Conference All-Star Defensive Team.

As good as Aaron was on the gridiron, it was on the running track that he really excelled. After contributing to the FHS Basketball program for his first three years, he chose to take his athletic abilities to the winter track team. In his one season of winter track in his senior year Aaron broke the school records for the 50-yard dash as well as the 50-meter dash which still stand 25 years later.

As a multi-sport athlete, Aaron's most significant achievements were during the spring track seasons. In 1998 he was a consistent 20-point getter, meaning that he competed in, and won, all four events in which he was entered. While competing in ten different events over the course of the spring season, his best event was the 110M high hurdles where his 15.4 time was the best in the area. In this same event he finished 5th in the State Class D Meet. During this dominant spring season Aaron was considered to be one the area's best all round performers. He was a two-time All-Star in the 110M high hurdle event.

After graduation from FHS Aaron enlisted in the United States Air Force, and upon completion of his service duty, he earned his Masters in Business Administration from Salve Regina University, and currently he works at Gold Medal Bakery as a strategic sourcing manager. To this day Aaron remains very active in local youth sports.

Karin (Knutsen) Barrows Class of 2003

Karin (Knutsen) Barrows was an outstanding athlete who excelled as a four-year starter on the Girls' Soccer Team where she scored 58 career goals and added 31 assists for a total of 89 career points. Coach Sam Galvam stated that Karin "was the team's best player up front and a very tough competitor who knew no fear". Karin was selected for the Standard-Times Girls' Soccer Super Team during both her junior and senior seasons.

On the basketball court she was also a fierce competitor who was known for her aggressive defensive play averaging just under five steals per game. She captained the basketball team during her senior season and was nominated by her coach for the annual Dave Cowens Award for the outstanding girls' basketball player on the south coast.

In the spring seasons of her freshman and sophomore years Karin was a member of the Spring Track teams, and then in her junior and senior seasons she played for the Girls' Tennis team and she captained that team during her senior season. Karin was chosen as the recipient of the Mel Entin Award as the outstanding senior female athlete after serving as team captain for all three of her senior year squads.

Karin went on to play soccer at Framingham State College where she was a four-year starter and team captain during her senior season. She was named to the All-Conference Second Team of the Mass. State College Athletic Conference. Karin went on to earn a Master's Degree in Education at UMass-Boston specializing in Orientation and Mobility Training for the Blind. She is employed by the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind and teaches Orientation and Mobility to both children and adults. She currently lives in Mattapoisett with her husband Colby and their two children, Bodie and Reagan.

Brent Almeida

The righthander was a key performer in six of his eight combined varsity seasons with Fairhaven High School's basketball and baseball teams in his four-year schoolboy athletic career. In his first season on the hardwood, Brent scored a total of 38 points in a dozen games for a team that finished the season with a dismal record of 2-18. As a junior, he picked up the pace by averaging 5.9 points a game for the 2004-05 basketball team that finished with an overall record of 6-14. Brent's most productive basketball season came during his senior year when the six-footer averaged just under 12 points a game in his role as co-star for a team that compiled a record of 12-8 and qualified for the postseason tournament. Over the course of the 20-game regular season Almeida scored in double figures 13 times with a career-high 23 points coming in a 67-45 victory over Seekonk.

Brent Almeida's dominant sport, however, was baseball in which he was named to The Standard-Times All-Star Team in all four post seasons. As a freshman Almeida hit .452 and drove in 20 runs. The following season, the pitcher/infielder slugged the ball at a .450 clip and won three games as a pitcher, setting the stage for two big final seasons on the mound. As a junior his pitching record was 6-2 with a 2.18 ERA, and in his final year, Brent compiled an earned run average of 2.17 while holding opposing hitters to a combined batting average of just .213. Offensively, Brent was just as impressive, banging the ball at a .406 clip while driving in 19 runs on his way to earning his fourth consecutive berth on The Standard-Times All-Star team.

After graduation Brent attended Division I Bryant University in Rhode Island on a baseball scholarship. He pitched for four years at the collegiate level, and in his senior season he was selected as the Northeast Conference Pitcher of the Year. Brent also was chosen for the Division I Northeast First Team and started in the annual D-1 vs D-2/D-3 All-Star game at Fenway Park for the D-1 team. At Bryant University he ended his career in the top 10 in career ERA.

After college Brent began working in the insurance field for Delta Dental of RI. He has worked there for over ten years and is currently the Senior Director of Operations & Analytics. He and his wife Kaleigh live in Fairhaven with their two children Sophia (10) and Brody (3). Brent still stays active in sports with his participation on the Board of the Fairhaven/Acushnet Softball League and he coaches the 10 & Under Firestorm Travel Softball Team in Fairhaven.

Keane Costa Class of 2009

Former Standard-Times sports writer Buddy Thomas called Keane Costa “the best right-handed hitter I’ve ever seen in my half-century of covering high school baseball.” At Fairhaven High School the two-sport athlete swung into action in the fall as a member of the golf team. But he produced his biggest numbers in the spring as a four-year starter for the Blue Devil squad. Costa absorbed the spotlight as a freshman when the sweet-swinging right-hander was primarily used in the role of designated hitter, and he responded by driving the ball from foul pole to foul pole and various places in-between against mostly upper-class, flame throwing pitchers from throughout the area. And he only got better.

Over his career Keane hit safely in 79 of 89 games, finishing with a four-year combined batting average of .475. As a senior he hit a robust .502 and drove in 27 runs while clubbing 4 of his 13 career homeruns. His many highlights included a 39 game hitting streak compiled over his junior and senior seasons and being named Most Valuable Player in the South Coast Conference and being hailed as the Standard-Times Baseball Player of the Year following his final high school season.

After graduation Keane went on to Bridgewater State University and was the baseball team’s starting catcher for all four years. At the conclusion of his sophomore season, he earned all-conference honors after helping his team win a MASCAC championship and a second-place finish in the New England regionals. After his junior season he once again earned all-conference honors while being the starting catcher for all 45 games, a BSU record. A month before his senior season Keane had multiple severe surgeries due to illness and was advised by his doctors to sit out the season. However, he was determined to play and worked his way back into the starting lineup eight games into the season, and finishing his collegiate career by being named to the all-conference team for the third time.

After graduating from Bridgewater State Keane went to work at Granite Telecommunications in Quincy on the sales team for eight years selling IT Infrastructure to enterprise businesses. He currently oversees and manages the relationship of Granite’s largest customer. Keane and his wife Rachael are newlyweds who were married a month ago on May 26th and live in South Weymouth with their Australian Sheperd dog.

Coach Jim Lanagan

Jim Lanagan wrapped up his 15th season at Bishop Stang High School in November of 1995 which marked his 37th season of walking the sidelines as a head football coach. He left Bishop Stang as the winningest football coach in that school's history with an overall record of 90-55-5. It was the final stop in a head coaching career that included stints at Monsignor Coyle High School of Taunton, Wareham and Fairhaven High School. Coach Lanagan's overall 37-year coaching record is 178 wins, 110 losses and 8 ties. He won back-to-back Southeastern Massachusetts Conference Div III championships at Wareham High School in 1972 and 1973, and then made it three consecutive titles by leading Fairhaven High School to the SMC Div II championship in his first year there in 1974.

Jim began his head coaching career at Coyle in 1964 where he remained for seven seasons before taking the reins at Wareham in 1971. After three years with the Vikings, Coach Lanagan replaced Kevin Cadieux as the head coach at FHS in March of 1974 and he directed Blue Devils' football teams for the next seven seasons, the final two while serving as the school's Director of Athletics. Jim won a title in his first year at Fairhaven, taking 29 returning team members from an 0-9-0 1973 team and turning the 1974 team into an 8-2-0 championship squad that produced three all-star players and earned Coach Lanagan the title of SMC Defensive Coach of the Year.

1975: 8-1-0

1976: 5-5-0

1977: 4-5-1

1978: 5-5-0

1979: 7-2-1

1980: 2-8-1

TOTAL: 39-27-3

Memorable Season

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GYMNASIUM

When Fairhaven High School was built in 1905-06 and gifted to the Town of Fairhaven by resident and philanthropist Henry Huttleston Rogers, the building included what was said to be the first indoor high school basketball court in America. Three decades later, in the mid 1930's, an addition was added in the rear on Larch Avenue that was connected to the main building by an underground passageway. That addition was demolished in the late 1990's when the construction of a new wing began in 1998. In addition to updated teaching and lab facilities, the new addition would have a modern gymnasium.

Competitive play in the gymnasium began in the 1998-1999 school year when the Girls' Volleyball, as well as the Girls' and Boys' Basketball teams officially christened the new facility by playing their first seasons of the South Coast Conference and non-conference competition on the shiny, new hardwood floor. This past school year marked the 25th anniversary of the FHS gymnasium which highlights the names of two members of the Fairhaven High School Hall of Fame. On November 14, 2007 the gymnasium was dedicated to Barton B. “Bart” Leach, a three-sport athlete who led Fairhaven High School to back-to-back state basketball championships in 1949-50 and 1950-51. On June 26, 2011 the gymnasium floor was named the “Wayne Wilson Court” in honor of the legendary coach who guided FHS basketball teams to several league and conference championships in his 17 years as head coach from 1963-1980. In honor of the 25th anniversary of the gymnasium and court, the Fairhaven High School Hall of Fame Committee has decided to honor those teams who officially opened the facility in their respective seasons.

THE 1998 GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL TEAM

The team was coached by Laurel Hellyar and competed in the fall sports season. Led by a solid nucleus of veteran and younger players, the Blue Devils volleyed their way into the postseason tournament by finishing the regular season with a record of 12-6. The key players included Hillary Dorgan, Nicole Woolley, Jennifer Nowak, Samantha Souza and Colleen Cronin.

Following a slow, sluggish start to the regular season, the Blue Devils quickly began to build momentum and finished strong against South Coast Conference competition to qualify for post season play. Their opening round opponent was a good GNB Voc-Tech team that had beaten Fairhaven twice during the regular season. But behind the finesse of Jen Nowak, who had 28 assists and five service aces, the strength of Samantha Souza, who had 12 kills and three blocks, and the power of Hillary Dorgan who returned hard shots to all sections of the court, the Blue Devils eliminated the Bears in the preliminary match to earn a spot in the quarterfinals. Their opponent was a tough and talented Bourne High School team that had thumped the Blue Devils twice enroute to a SCC championship.

Fairhaven’s run would end at that point, but not before an epic third game that saw the Blue Devils battle back from 15-5 and 15-1 losses in the first two games to win a wild 17-15 decision and force a fourth game against the powerful Canalmen who would eliminate Coach Hellyar and company with a 15-6 victory. But the memory of that third game comeback victory would allow Fairhaven to return with their heads held high. Trailing 5-12 and just three points away from being swept out of the tournament, the Blue Devils went on a 9-1 run to take a 14-13 lead, but then found themselves trailing 14-15 and within a successful Bourne serve of being ousted. However, an unforced error would give Fairhaven another chance, and with Nowak serving, the Blue Devils tied the game at 15 and took a 16-15 lead before a crushing kill by Dorgan completed the 17-15 comeback win.

Following the state tournament, Nowak and Souza were named to The Standard-Times All-Star team: Nowak on the strength of her strong all-around play and Souza for leading the team in kills and passing percentage. The teams final overall record was 13-7.

THE 1998-1999 BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The new gymnasium opened its doors to varsity basketball on December 18, 1998 when the Blue Devils played host to Dartmouth in a non-conference clash. The Fairhaven team was coached by Bob Baldwin who was in his 11th season and was led by a trio of players (Ryan Powers, Dustin Botelho and Joe Matteos) returning from a 1997-98 team that qualified for the postseason tournament with a record of 11-11. A full house filled the gymnasium and roared their approval when Botelho scored the first two points in the new facility on a driving layup to help the home team build a 10-point (19-9) lead eight minutes into the contest. But after a sluggish start, the visiting Indians reeled off seven straight points to close the gap to 19-16 and took the lead for good at 27-25 enroute to a 74-63 victory, spoiling the night's festivities for the Fairhaven faithful. Botelho, a 6-foot-2 junior, led Fairhaven with 27 points while the 6-foot-2 senior Powers added 22 points and 6-foot junior Jason Pelland added 12. Junior Robbie Lovegrove tossed in two points and was the only other Blue Devil to shoot his way into the scoring column. Other team members who scored at least one point over the course of the 22-game season were Matteos, Greg Davis, Adam Faria, Matt Ponte, Chris Chase, Jesse Letton, Jim Pomfret, Jake Galary and Greg Luiz.

Fairhaven rebounded from that opening night loss to beat Old Rochester 53-52 three nights later, and won their first home game against Case (62-40) on December 28th and finished the regular season with a record of 16-6 before losing to Canton in the opening round of the post season tournament. Botelho and Powers led the team in scoring by averaging 17.5 and 13.7 points respectively, and both were named to The Standard-Times All-Star team. Davis and Lovegrove earned Honorable Mention.

THE 1998-99 GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Fifth year head Coach Glenn Gardner led the Fairhaven girls' team into their first basketball battle in the new gymnasium against Old Rochester on December 21, 1998, and like the boys, came out on the losing end, this one by 10 points, 53-43. Alison Carey, one of two returning players from the 1997-98 team that shot its way into the postseason tournament and finished with an overall record of 17-7, scored 15 points in her team's debut, but was the only Blue Devils' player to reach double figures. The 5-foot-8 Carey spent most of her time at the forward position and was the "go-to" player on offense. Liz Tapper was one of two seniors on the team and the 5-foot-5 forward did a solid job of rebounding and playing strong defense.

Nine players formed the nucleus of the team, but an early season-ending injury to highly-regarded Kelly Fitts, a 5-foot-8 sophomore, lowered that number by one. Erin Antil, a 5-foot-6 sophomore, stepped up big time and led the team in 3-point shooting percentage and teamed up with Carey to give the team a strong one-two scoring punch. Alison led the team in scoring with an average of 15.4 points a game.

Fairhaven finished the season with a record of 12-10 and qualified for postseason play. Other key members of that '98-99 roster included senior Jill Delano who, at 5-foot-7 played the center position; juniors Tiffany Colt and Cary Greenway and sophomores Cathy Tassopoulos and Kerri Tripp. Alison Carey was named to The Standard-Times All-Star team while teammates Erin Antil and Cathy Tassopoulos received Honorable Mention honors.
